DESIDERATA

—MAX EHRMANN

Go placidily amid the noise and haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence.

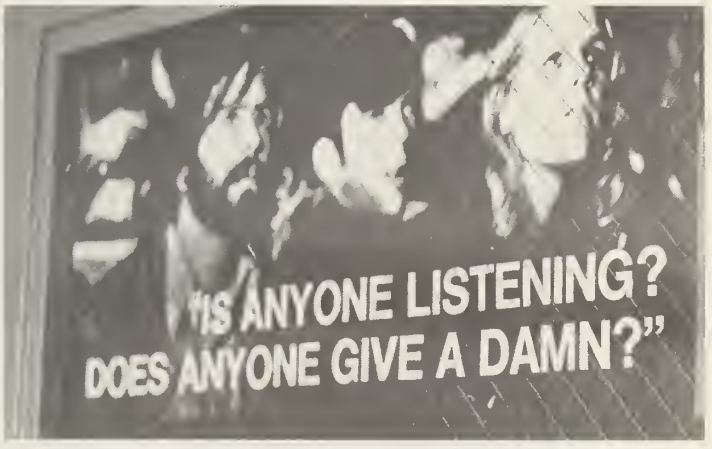
As far as possible without surrender, be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant; they, too, have their story.



Avoid loud and aggressive persons, they are vexations to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain and bitter; for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans.

Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals; and everywhere life is full of heroism.

Be yourself.

Especially, do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is perennial as the grass.

Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth.

Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune.

But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself.

You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here.

And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should.

Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be, and whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul. With all its sham, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be happy.

It doesn't say anything about Tagastan 303 in the Bible . . . only something about going forth and baptizing all men. Jesus never mentioned teaching retarded children, or working in Appalachia . . . only to spread his word to everyone. The Apostles never heard of Santa Claus, but they let the children talk to Jesus. Maybe they've gotten the message wrong, but the people pictured on this page, and many who aren't, have taken it upon themselves to let everyone know that Jesus is still around—even if he sometimes looks like a Merrimack student . . . or Santa Claus.

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

John R. Aherne, O.S.A.
President

As I write, the long cruel war has sputtered to a stop, at least for America. The shadow which lay across every campus in the United States is gone, and with it some of the folly which conceived violence as an answer to violence. Perhaps now students can be students again.

It is my hope that the balance can be redressed, that a college as a place of learning rather than politics—internal or external—may once again be recognized. It was a mistake ever to imagine that the campus could supply what only years of experience can achieve. There is something out there called LIFE which will provide the day-to-day classroom where college leaves off.

In spite of diversions, I trust that four years at Merrimack have constituted a time of growing, as students and as men and women. Those years brought their mistakes as well as accomplishments and both should contribute to maturity.

Merrimack College salutes the graduating class and wishes it—a quite literal sense—Godspeed. You carry with you something of us. Go on to a new life but do not forget the years of the campus.

To the students of Merrimack College:

The final pages of the 1973 MERRIMACKAN are now being completed. To the staff who spent hours in the cold Tagastan office and to the photographers who appeared everywhere with camera in hand, this last hour is mixed with happiness, relief, and much pride. It was not an easy task to publish the yearbook, for tensions mounted as deadlines came all too quickly. In years to come, all this will be forgotten and the pages of the book will only bring back warm and happy memories to all who leaf through it.

Merrimack College is a unique place, a stepping stone into the world; thus, our goal was to capture this uniqueness not only in pictures but also in words. We hope that this year's Merrimackan has accomplished this successfully. The class of 1973 is on its way out, but no matter where they settle, the Merrimackan will bring Merrimack College with them.

This yearbook could not have become a reality without the efforts of my staff and the many who worked in the background offering invaluable help. At this time, I would like to congratulate my staff and extend my sincere gratitude to: James Greeley, who helped me over the numerous difficulties; Mrs. Betty Lee, whose typing and organization were indispensible; Paul Eaton, Ken Rogers, and their staffs, who were very generous with their time and assistance; and especially to Mr. J. Joseph Donovan of Wm. J. Keller, Inc., who was always there at those crucial moments.

Sincerely,
Linda A. Welteroth
